

Message

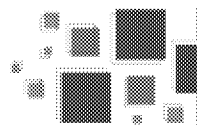

From: Minnesota Public Radio [newsletter@mpr.org]
Sent: 2/22/2017 8:57:44 PM
To: Wester, Barbara [wester.barbara@epa.gov]
Subject: MPR News Update PM Edition for February 22, 2017

MPRnews UPDATE

Minnesota's news on your schedule

PM edition

Good afternoon! Astronomers made a far out discovery recently in the form of 7 Earth-sized planets orbiting around a small, relatively close star. The discovery sets a record for both the most Earth-sized planets and the most potentially habitable planets ever discovered around a single star. | Science | Forecast

POWER GREAT RADIO

mprnews.org/donate

Anoka Sheriff's Office offers some inmates medication to treat opioid addiction

The Anoka County Sheriff's Office says it'll now offer some inmates addicted to opioids a medication that can lessen cravings and block them from using opioids like heroin or prescription painkillers. | Minnesota's Opioid Epidemic

SPONSOR

Powered by LiveIntent

AdChoices

Senate panel inches Sunday liquor sales forward

A Minnesota Senate panel has moved the state one step closer to legalizing Sunday liquor sales.

Maplewood nightclub to close after shooting

The Maplewood City Council voted during an emergency meeting on Wednesday morning to close a troubled nightclub that was the scene of a shooting that injured five people last week.

Minnesota man gets 2 year sentence for lying in terror case

A Minnesota man has been sentenced to two years in federal prison for lying to the FBI about his contact with a terror suspect linked to the Somali militant group al-Shabab.

Official: Trump to revoke transgender bathroom guidance

A government official says the Trump administration will revoke guidelines that say transgender students should be allowed to use bathrooms and locker rooms matching their chosen gender identity. | What happens now?

Cannibalism: It's 'perfectly natural,' a new scientific history argues

It's gruesome, but from a scientific standpoint, there's a predictable calculus for when humans and animals go cannibal, a new book says. And who knew European aristocrats ate body parts as medicine? | The Thread

Anger rises across the country at GOP congressional town halls

Constituents have been confronting legislators over everything from the GOP's plan to repeal and replace Obamacare to the Trump White House. Here's a look at particularly rowdy events this week. | Few in Minnesota's congressional delegation hold in-person town halls

U.S. Steel goes to court against Minnesota over Minntac permit

U.S. Steel has gone to court in a dispute with the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency over pollution limits for its Minntac iron mining operations.

Connect with MPR News

MPRnews.org
MPR News on iOS
MPR News on Android
Podcasts from MPR News

You received this e-mail because you are subscribed or because it was sent to you by a friend. This e-mail was sent to the following address: wester.barbara@epa.gov

Unsubscribe | Manage Email Subscriptions | Privacy Policy | Terms

Questions, comments, shout-outs? We'd love to hear from you! Please send your response to mail@mpr.org or fill out our contact form.

© 2017 Minnesota Public Radio. 480 Cedar Street, Saint Paul, MN 55101 USA